

APPENDIX E – SITE HERITAGE PHOTOGRAPHS

Photograph 1: View of the eastern section of the Site facing east across the motorcycle school

Photograph 2: View of the eastern section of the Site facing west towards the oil gas works

Photograph 3: General views across the southern limits of the oil gas works facing west

Photograph 4: Views of storage tanks and associated infrastructure

Photograph 5: Views of tanks and associated infrastructure facing north with the higher northern section in the background

Photograph 6: Views across the tanks with details such as sunken storage/attenuation tanks

Photograph 7: Views across the north section of the Site facing northeast showing the cleared buildings

Photograph 8: Views across the northern section of the Site facing southwest with the tops of the tanks visible in the background

Photograph 9: Views of the south elevation of the former abattoir wall on East Dock Street

Photograph 10: View of the inner tiled face of the former abattoir wall

Photograph 11: Southern end of boundary wall along Roodsyard Road which separates the eastern and western sections of the site

Photograph 12: Roodsyard Road street sign

Photograph 13: Views along the western boundary of the Site on Markey Street

Photograph 14: View west along the northern boundary of the Site along Broughty Ferry Road

Photograph 15: View from the main Site north showing the change in height across the Site and the retaining wall

Photograph 16: View west along the retaining wall which shows the change in height between the northern and southern sections of the site

Photograph 17: Retaining walls and possible structural remains of the abattoir in the western boundary of the site

Photograph 18: Detailed view of the possible structural remains of the abattoir in the western boundary of the site

Photograph 19: View of the concrete balustrade along the upper edge of the north section of the site, with the tops of the tanks visible in the background

Photograph 20: Views from the former St XXX burial ground to the south west, with the Category B listed Guthrie Mausoleum centre (LB25038). Craigtay (AECOM002) is visible beyond the boundary wall, with the tanks just visible in the distance.

Photograph 21: View of Craigtay (AECOM002) from the northern section of the site

Photograph 22: Views to the Site from the railway overbridge to the southeast. The eastern section of the site is located behind the advertising hoardings, with the main site occupied by the oil gas tanks